The Efficient Way to Disable your IBM Notes Databases

Managing Old IBM Notes Databases

Unused IBM Notes databases can become burdensome. Most companies have neither the financial resources nor the manpower to keep up with their maintenance, or to migrate to a new platform. Where can you find a cost-efficient way to eliminate this burden? How can you avoid losing the contents of your Notes database and ensure the continuation of their use?

About GBS

GROUP Business Software is a leading provider of solutions and services for the IBM and Microsoft collaboration platform.

More than 5,000 customers and 4 million users worldwide trust in the expertise of GBS.

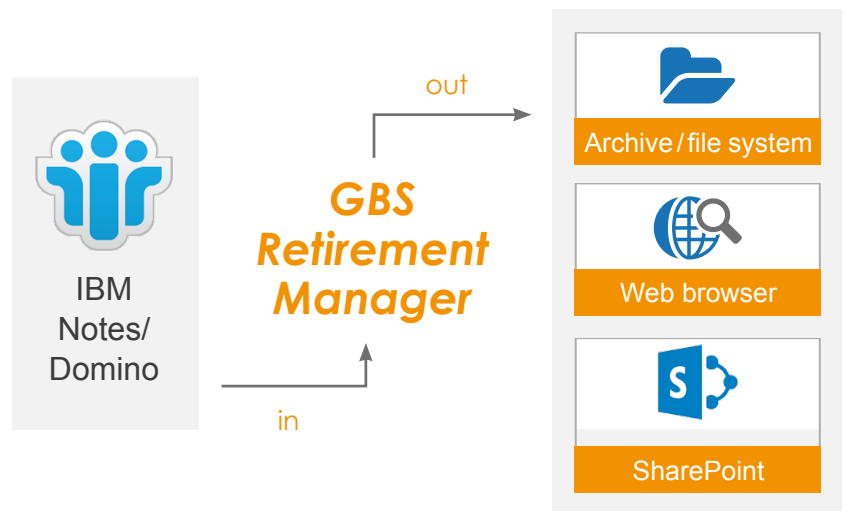

A Cost-efficient Process

GBS Retirement Manager answers these questions. Our solution disables unused IBM Notes databases in an efficient and sensible manner. Contents are converted into a uniform file format, which enables their continued use across platforms. No long-term analyses or expensive data migrations are necessary!

Future-proof PDF and Web Integration

The best part for you: The process is fully automated. GBS Retirement Manager conducts a search of your existing IBM Notes databases and converts their contents into PDF format, which can be used across platforms

Resulting data can then be used further (for long term storage in PDF format, for example) or made available in a web browser. Microsoft SharePoint users are also able to integrate the files into a SharePoint list. Even processing large amounts of files is no problem for GBS Retirement Manager. Our solution effortlessly adjusts to your requirements.

GBS Retirement Manager answers your call for an efficient solution capable of disabling unused IBM Notes databases! Your valuable data is still accessible, yet you save the expense of operating or maintaining unused apps.
